Photo Number 6 is a reality television program combining the adventure of travel with the joy of photography. Host Alan Fletcher explores the world looking for that elusive photographic image that totally encapsulates the emotion, geography and human connections he makes.

Travel is more than just getting off the bus and taking a few snaps. In every episode of Photo Number 6, host Alan Fletcher will be seeking out 5 travel experiences that go beyond the tourist guidebook and delve into the heart and soul of the places he visits. The challenge he is set in the show is to photograph each experience looking to choose just one photo that sums up that experience. Then, with the help of the director and crew, Alan must choose just one photo to represent the emotions, the geography, the feeling and the human connections he has made – AND THAT IS PHOTO NUMBER 6

Photo Number 6 is not a standard travel program showcasing the obvious tourist attractions a location has to offer. We will take viewers 'under the surface' and explore the culture, the politics, the landscape and the humanity of the places we visit. Through five fast paced cinematic segments Alan and director Stig Wemyss will take the audience on a quirky, humorous, dramatic and, occasionally, risky ride into fascinating and exciting destinations and rendezvous. Then Alan and Stig will battle it out in the in-studio RED ROOM seeking the perfect shot worthy of the title Photo Number 6.
